GEORGIA LEGISLATORS PASS WAR MEASURES

NOT LEAST IMPORTANT IS LAW REQUIRING EVERY PERSON TO WORK.

Atlanta, July 15.—The Georgia legislature is taking up some progressive bills at this session of the legislature; and is passing not only several constructive measures of state interest, but giving serious consideration to war measures.

One of the first steps in the direction of efficiency results from the appointment last summer of the committee to investigate finances and appropriations in order to eliminate unnecessary expenditures, thereby allowing larger funds for use where they are needed. The state wishes to increase its appropriation for war work for its public schools, and legislation is under consideration for the establishment of a state board of corrections and charities.

The report of the committee was an enlightening one, and contains recommendations already made by Governor Dorsey; and with an unusual degree of progressiveness and understanding, the legislative body seems disposed to try to find ways and means for carrying forward the constructive legislation needed.

A war measure of prime necessity that will greatly aid in reducing the farm labor shortage and the scarcity along other lines, was the bill passed requiring all persons, white and colored, male and female, above a certain age to work at least five and a half days a week.

In answer to a demand of several years, rendered doubly strong because of conditions resulting from many cantonments, the legislature has appointed a special committee to draft a bill raising the age of consent in Georgia. The senate has passed another bill of social value requiring that no marriage license shall be issued to a man unless a certificate of sound health be presented. The house will take up this bill later.

MORE BOYS ARE SENT TO CAMP TUESDAY

Twenty-four whites and five colored boys sent to Camp Gordon.

Bulloch county furnished twenty-nine more soldiers for Uncle Sam's army Tuesday, when twenty-four white boys and five negroes were sent to camp for training.

The twenty-four white boys were sent to Ft. Screven and the five colored boys to Camp Gordon. Six negroes were to have gone, but one of the number failed to report.

The white boys are Pete Warren, Calvin Strouse, George Falligan, C. Roy Tucker, T. Jesse Mikell, Willie Edenhell, Willie Rucker, John D. Lee, Jack Newborne, Carswell Deal, Ernie Williams, Mike Skinner, John Kicklighter, Harville Mark, Columbus C. Leonard, Henry H. Smith, Connel Weeks, John M. Sheffield, Jake Atkins, Brooks Beasley, James Williams, Chaney Futch, Lonnie Holbrook, Oscar Lott.

The colored men were Hodge Donaldson, Solomon Lee, John Mitchell Perkins, Richard James, Levy Hendrix.

"My wife was unable to eat even the lightest food, and had fallen away to a living skeleton. She could not even keep doctor's medicine on her stomach and was tortured with pain. On the recommendation of a friend I bought a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy and she is all right now and has gained forty pounds."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by W. H. Ellis Drug Co.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Trappell are visiting for ten days at Indian Spring. Mrs. Zada Trappell has returned to Savannah after a visit to her parents, Mayor and Mrs. Rountree.

Mrs. F. I. Williams entertained last Thursday evening for her brothers, Mr. A. B. Everett, and his wife, who are visiting here from Atlanta.

ABOUT TO SAIL, HIS THOUGHTS ARE OF HOME

Bulloch County Boy Writes Typical Letter to Mother. — As has been said before, every boy in uniform belongs to the public. Every father and mother feels an intimate interest in every other mother's son, and every young person left at home recognizes the boy in uniform as a personal representative in the army against the Germans. Because of that feeling of interest, letters addressed to parents are of public interest many times and are given space occasionally.

One of the typical letters, expressing the thoughts and emotions of a lad about to be ordered across, was written a few days ago by Rufus Newsome, at Camp Eustis, Va., to his mother, Mrs. J. S. Newsome. Extracts from it are deemed of interest.

"Well, mama, I am looking for a letter from you now; but I don't guess I will get it I don't get it within the next day or two, for we will leave here Thursday and I guess we are bound for the other side of the water. I am not afraid, for I feel that it is my duty and I hope you will be proud of me. But, mama, I will depend on the Good Lord for my guide, and He will take care of me, so don't worry, but just ask the Lord to help us, and we will succeed. If not on this earth, maybe our contentment will be hereafter, so you just rest assured that I'm all right."

"I don't know just when we will take our departure, but in the near future, I guess. You must not write me any more till I reach my destination, but I will write you on every occasion; and as quick as I can reach where I am going, will write you a long letter and tell you all the news."

And the lad goes on with a personal message to each member of the family, which reaches the heart of one who reads it, and gives an open view into the heart of the boy who is about to be sent away. Not one of these letters we have read has yet portrayed the heart of a slacker. There are few slackers in the uniform.

ALLIES GAIN IN EVERY EFFORT

AMERICANS PRESS AFTER FOE, WHO OFFERS STRONG RESISTANCE IN COVERING THEIR RETREAT.

London, July 23.—According to careful estimates warranting acceptance, says Reuter's correspondent on the French front, the Germans have employed between sixty and seventy divisions since July 15, and have killed 600,000 men killed, wounded and taken prisoners.

New York, July 24.—The entente allies troops on the Soissons-Rheims salient continued to gain ground, both on the western side of the battle front and on the south along the Marne and toward Rheims, notwithstanding the increasing resistance of the Germans and the bad weather that is prevailing on the southern part of the line.

While the latest gains recorded are not as great, on the whole, as those of previous days, they nevertheless have added positions of strategic value to the allied line for the further prosecution of the efforts to clear the territory of the enemy.

As a diversion the French to the northwest, midway between Soissons and Amiens have delivered a blow against the German lines which has been productive of excellent results. Striking on a front of about four miles Gen. Foch's troops penetrated the enemy lines for a distance of about two miles and gained the heights dominating the valley of the Aisne river and beyond. Fifteen hundred Germans were captured by the French. The official communication issued by the French war office refers to this fighting as a local operation.

South of Soissons the drive of the Franco-American forces toward Fere-Tardenois has pushed farther back the Germans on both sides of the Oureq river. South of the river, notwithstanding fierce resistance, the allied forces reached the railroad line between Armentieres and Coincy, running southward to Chateau-Thierry and pressed on beyond it. This advance brings the French and American troops farther to within seven miles of the Fere-Tardenois and also gives them a dominating position for big gun play over the eastern section of the railway line running from Armentieres to Fere-Tardenois.

On the northern bank of the Marne to the east of Chateau-Thierry the town of Jaulgonne, from which the Americans retreated during the German offensive, has been recaptured and left in the rear for the advancing troops. East of Jaulgonne the French likewise have advanced their line on the north bank of the Marne and along their newly won positions notwithstanding the violence of the German counter-moves and the statement of the German War Office that they were driven out.

Likewise south of Rheims, where the British are fighting with the French, strong enemy positions have been captured and the allied line advanced nearly a mile. The reinforced German front here stubbornly contested the advance, but the British and French gained the advantage and in addition to inflicting heavy casualties took prisoners and five guns. The British alone captured 300 Germans.

The counter-attacks of the Germans continue with great violence, with heavy gun and machine gun fire behind them. Where they are forced to give ground the Germans are leaving numerous machine gun nests in the open to harass their enemies and aid in making secure the retirement.

MAKING MOONSHINE FROM DISCARDED LEGS

Atlanta, July 23.—Patrons of the more less numerous "blind tigers" in this city have received a rude mental jolt as the result of a greivous mistake which occurred yesterday. Incidentally it might be stated that there has been a marked decline in the market value of the beverage that both cheers and inebriates.

HARRIS STRONGEST AGAINST HARDWICK

OPINIONS OF EDITORS FROM 105 COUNTIES ON GEORGIA SENATORIAL RACE.

Rome, Ga., July 23.—In the opinion of Georgia editors from eighty-four different counties William J. Harris is the strongest candidate in those counties against Senator Hardwick.

The editors from fourteen counties state that William Schick Howard is the strongest opponent of the junior senator.

In Clay county Shaw is said to have the lead and seven counties are put in the doubtful list.

The Rome Tribune-Herald yesterday telegraphed this query to a newspaper in each of the counties in Georgia that has a paper, 144 in all: "Please wire immediately, collect your opinion, strongest candidate in your county against Hardwick."

One hundred and five replies were received.

Editors from the following counties stated Harris was the strongest candidate in their county against Hardwick: Bacon, Bibb, Blackley, Brooks, Barrow, Ben Hill, Burke, Bulloch, Blount, Chatham, Campbell, Candler, Colquitt, Charlton, Cobb, Chattooga, Catawba, Clark, Coweta, Crisp, Dawson, Dade, Dooly, Decatur, Dodge, Dougherty, Emanuel, Early, Evans, Floyd, Gilmer, Grady, Greene, Glynn, Hancock, Hardee, Heard, Hart, Henry, Houston, Irwin, Jones, Jefferson, Jeff Davis, Laurens, Lowndes, Madison, Miller, Meriwether, Marion, Macon, McDuffie, McIntosh, Montgomery, Morgan, Mitchell, Muscogee, Pike, Paulding, Polk, Randolph, Richmond, Spalding, Stewart, Stephens, Screven, Sumter, Toombs, Taliferro, Taylor, Troup, Telfair, Tift, Tattnall, Thomas, Upson, Union, Ware, Washington, Warren, Wayne, Wilcox.

Editors from the following fourteen counties stated Howard was the strongest candidate against Hardwick in their counties: Butts, Clinch, DeKalb, Elbert, Habersham, Haralson, Monroe, Newton, Rockdale, Pulaski, Wilkes, Worth, Gwinnett. No inquiry was sent to Fulton, which is taken for granted is for Mr. Howard.

Editors from the following seven counties declare it is "everybody's race" or in doubt in their counties: Carroll, Gordon, Murray, Oglethorpe, Schley, Talbot, Wheeler. No reply was received from nine counties.

Commenting editorially upon the poll the Tribune-Herald declares that it proves conclusively that the race is between Harris and Hardwick and from now on the issue will be clearly drawn.

NEW MOTOR ROUTES RUN TO STATESBORO

Lines are established between here and Dublin and Augusta.

Statesboro is again put prominently on the map in postal circles by the establishment of two new motor routes this week. Monday evening witnessed the first arrival of trucks which will make daily runs between Statesboro and Augusta and Statesboro and Dublin.

The Monday trip of these trucks was really only a sort of trial trip, preparatory to fixing the schedule for the new service. The first day's run occupied the entire day, and Tuesday they returned to the starting points. The regular daily schedule, which was put on yesterday, provides for round trips from Augusta and Dublin each day. The trucks arrive here at 12 o'clock, remain on at the depot until 1 o'clock for their return. The distance from each place is about 80 miles, and the running time allowed is five hours. The trucks are large and high-powered with capacity to easily make twenty miles an hour.

The Savannah-Savannah truck, which has been operating on an every-other-day schedule, but will also be made daily.

Reports to headquarters of the first naval district here indicated the presence of the submarine in this vicinity since Saturday. Captain Orrin Bartlett, of the U. S. S. A feature of the attack yesterday near Plymouth was the fact that the submarine opened fire without warning. In all other reported cases of

UNCLE SAM TO TAKE OVER ALL DOCTORS

GOVERNMENT ABOUT TO ASSUME CONTROL OF ENTIRE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

Washington, July 18.—The government is about to assume control of the entire medical profession in the United States to obtain sufficient doctors for the fast growing army, and at the same time to distribute those remaining to the localities or services where they are most needed for civilian work.

This mobilization is to be accomplished either by enrolling all doctors in a volunteer service corps under the name of a medical reserve, military or civilian, is assigned them by the governing body of the corps, or, if the voluntary plan is not successful by legislation providing for drafting them into government service. Medical officers of the government will not be necessary.

Organization plans for the volunteer medical service corps already have been made and enrollment started in a few states under authority of the council of national defense. Instead of enrolling this corps only kind and the high price of labor, considerable sentiment has developed within the past few days calling for a delay of street paving projects now under way.

Whether tangible results will follow, remains to be seen. Mr. S. F. Olliff, one of the largest taxpayers of the city and one of the enthusiastic advocates of paving, has been discussing the matter, and it is said that sentiment is strong in favor of an abandonment of the work.

Up to now, the storm sewerage has been laid out for the section proposed to pave. Material has been ordered for the paving and some of it has arrived. Sand has been placed on the lot on North Main street where the mixing plant will be located, and the arrival of a mixer is the only thing that has prevented actual beginning of the paving. It is said. Arrangements have been made for the use of a mixer now in the city, the one used in the postoffice job, and it is said the work will be commenced in a few days.

The leading reason advanced for the delay of the work is that the government is in need of everything for war purposes that will go into the paving—both material and labor. It is pointed out that the asphalt and cement needed for the work has advanced largely on account of war demands, and that labor now costs approximately twice what it did when the work was first proposed.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that the construction company is under contract to do the work at an agreed-upon price, and that that price is possibly below what could be hoped for later. In regard to this, however, it has been intimated that the government may not permit the continuance of the work, on account of its urgent need of the materials, and that the construction company could probably not be required to perform the work in the face of the government's refusal to allow the materials to be procured.

However that may be, the fact remains that the work is still held ahead, and that talk is still heard of abandonment of it for the time being.

SEARCH BEING MADE FOR GERMAN SUBMARINE

COMBING WATERS OFF FIRE ISLAND AND ENDEAVORING TO SALVAGE SUNK BARGES.

Boston, July 23.—All the facilities at the command of the first naval district were brought into play today in a search of New England waters for the German submarine which attacked and sank three barges yesterday off Cape Cod within view of the Orleans shore.

Though the port of Boston was not closed, merchant ships and other unprotected craft were warned of the danger of leaving port. The submarine was headed south when last seen yesterday, but naval authorities expressed the opinion that the boat might be sighted again off the New England coast, and were prepared for any eventuality.

Reports to headquarters of the first naval district here indicated the presence of the submarine in this vicinity since Saturday. Captain Orrin Bartlett, of the U. S. S. Albatross, at about dusk Saturday night he sighted the periscope of a submarine four miles off the port of Plymouth. His report placed the submarine well within the Massachusetts Bay.

HINDENBURG'S DEATH VERY BRIEF AFFAIR

Dead Last Week, He Is Now Reported Seriously Ill.

London, July 23.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of the German general staff, is seriously ill and has taken no part in military operations of the present year, according to information from Berlin, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin today.

At great personal effort, the message adds, the field marshal was present at a few of the receptions, but went through the functions without speaking. He is quite incapable of writing, the advices declare.

SENTIMENT SPRINGING UP TO DISCONTINUE PAVING

CITIZENS AROUSED AT INCREASED COST OF MATERIAL AND SCARCITY OF LABOR.

Confronted by the certainty of increased cost of materials of every kind and the high price of labor, considerable sentiment has developed within the past few days calling for a delay of street paving projects now under way.

Whether tangible results will follow, remains to be seen. Mr. S. F. Olliff, one of the largest taxpayers of the city and one of the enthusiastic advocates of paving, has been discussing the matter, and it is said that sentiment is strong in favor of an abandonment of the work.

Up to now, the storm sewerage has been laid out for the section proposed to pave. Material has been ordered for the paving and some of it has arrived. ## SISTER AND BROTHER IN MORTAL COMBAT

Rather interesting information has been received of an unusual combat in the Port of Boston one day last week in which a sister slew her brother after herself being badly injured by him.

The parties are all negroes. The brother was Will Moffitt, and his sister's name is not known. They lived on the road between Statesboro and Port, near Mr. H. H. Moore's place. The statement is that the brother and sister, both of whom were grown, fought with hoses; that the brother struck the sister on the arm and broke it; that she, with her unjuried hand, struck him over the head and crushed his skull, from which he died two days later.

The trouble is said to have started over the mistreatment of the sister's children by the brother. He is said to have beaten one of them severely before the mother took a hand in the fray, and that from then on it was a fight to the finish.

Another bear story came from over on the Savannah river side, and is authenticated. It is to the effect that a large bear was slain at Poor Robin, and that a number of persons were in the hunt. It is said, further, that the feet were displayed at several places as a souvenir of the event. Suspicion is said to exist that these two bears were one and the same. However, that may be, this is a big bear foot with him in the place last Friday, and the owner of the foot had evidently been dead for some days. The live one may still be at large somewhere.

MORAL EFFECT OF HUN
DEFEAT INCALCULABLE

"DER FRIEDENSTRUM" FAILS TO MATERIALIZE AND 600,000 SOLDIERS DISAPPOINTED.

With the French Armies in the Field, July 21—"Der Friedenstrum" is not yet.

It was under that name—"offensive for peace"—that the German commanders led their divisions into battle a week ago. From the consequences of which they are now endeavoring to extricate themselves.

This word obtained from prisoners in all parts of the long battle line, reveals the ambitious plans with which the Germans entered the battle.

Because of the promise of peace the hold on more than fifty divisions (600,000 men), the moral effect of the defeat is incalculable. The material effect is more easily summed up. Epernay is safer than ever; the forest of the mountain of Rheims remains an impenetrable barrier north of the Marne.

The net result has been the loss of an appreciable portion of the territory taken May 27, and the lines of communications from Soissons to the rear area, seriously threatened. This much is certain to date.

French soldiers are unwilling to believe, as yet, to call this the "second battle of the Marne." They prefer to call it the battle of the "Rheims mountain."

As they analyze the German plan, and the thoroughness with which it was shattered, it develops that the enemy did not seek to storm the Marne, but sought to turn it, first by crossing the Marne, then rapidly widening their bridgehead. Then, since they expected the allies to be strongly entrenched in the valleys of the Marne and the Seine, toward Paris, they would turn their backs on the capital and move toward Epernay.

Meanwhile, other German forces were to crush General Gouraud's army and seize Chalons. The two German armies then would join and Rheims and Rheims' mountain would fall without a fight.

It is apparent the Germans underestimated the available allied forces, and the spirit with which they would meet the assault.

Some insight into the political effect on Germany can be gained from the protestations of a Pan-Germanist officer who was taken prisoner. He declared that certain Bavarian elements failed to defend their positions "earnestly" and practically accused them of treason.

On the other hand, there are many evidences that the crown prince used all of the best German divisions available.

American troops have completely cleared Barillon wood of the enemy and have driven the Germans five miles north of Chateau Thierry.

(Barillon wood extends from Chateau Thierry eastward along the north bank of the Marne and extends about five miles northward.)

Among those identified are the sixteenth division of the "Invincible Brandenburgers," who acquired that title when the Kaiser especially recognized them in February, 1918, for the capture of Fort Douaumont, one of the principal defenses of Verdun.

In the Campaign of offensive along the Marne, the Germans were compelled to throw in four new divisions (48,000 men) after Thursday's fighting to repair the breaks in their line, scattering their battalion after battalion along various sectors, although they had been intended as a part of the previous reserve to definitely turn the tide of battle and force immediate peace. One of the new divisions introduced in the battle was a new German armored truck. These were used in transporting munitions across fields and along roads under heavy shell fire. The trucks have six wheels, with a catapillar tractor, and their armored bodies are 25 feet long, nine feet high and eight feet wide.

Isolated allied units, who were cut off in the early fighting, were supplied with food by French aviators until they were rescued.

RECOMMENDS CHANGES IN AUTOMOBILE LAWS

Atlanta, July 23.—In a special report recently issued, Secretary of State H. B. Strange recommends a number of improvements for existing automobile laws of the state of Georgia; and, in presenting the audit of the books of the late Philip Cook, who succeeded in office by appointment of Governor Dorsey, pays a fine tribute to the executive ability and integrity of his predecessor.

The changes recommended in the automobile laws include a number of things that will aid in the proper licensing of cars, the improvement of the roads and the increasing of state revenue from that source.

Calomel dynamites
A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates. It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with your bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a bottle of Doan's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and while you're sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may kill you, while if you take Doan's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

RED CROSS SERVING OUR COLORED TROOPS

The Red Cross draws no color line. The most interesting service yet rendered by the Chattanooga Canteen Committee was recently when a regiment of negro troops (a corps of engineers) was shown every consideration by that organization. The new push cart was in operation, and basketful after basketful of peaches were distributed. Postcards were also given the soldiers, and where they were unable to write themselves, Canteen workers supplied the messages to the folks back home. The giving was not all on their part, for when they returned from their exercises through the city with the colored men were formed in a hollow square by their Commandant and the "talent" of the regiment ordered out. The singing was beautiful and the "dogg" dancing entertaining.
